Google Business Profile

Organic — no spend · two posts a week · the highest-intent traffic you have

Worth being precise about what this is: a Business Profile is not an ad platform. You cannot buy impressions on it. These are profile posts, and they are free.

It earns its place for two reasons. Someone reading your profile has already searched your name — usually after seeing an ad or getting a cold email — and that is the highest-intent traffic in the entire campaign. And the profile feeds the location asset behind any Google Ads campaign you run later.

Where to post

Google Business Profile Manager (or search your business name while signed in) → your profile → Add update / Promote.

Two post types are used here:

- What's new — for Post A
- Offer — for Post B (it lets you set a validity window and a button)

Before you post anything

The profile itself has to be complete, or the posts land on a page that undermines them:

- [ ] Business name, category, and a real description
- [ ] Address or service area
- [ ] Phone number that someone actually answers
- [ ] Website URL pointing at `/leak-test`
- [ ] Hours — including the fact that enquiries arrive outside them
- [ ] At least five photos
- [ ] Verified

A profile that is half-filled while advertising responsiveness is an own goal.

The posts

Both 1200×1200, sized and contrasted to survive being shown at thumbnail scale in the local panel, which is where most of them are actually seen.

Post A — Free Lead Response Report · `post-01-free-report.png`

Type: What's new. Post weekly.

How fast does your own enquiry form get answered?

Most owners have never measured it. We will — free.

Send us your website. We submit your form, time the reply, check your booking path, and send you the timestamps within 24 hours. No call required.
```

Button — Learn more → `/leak-test`

Post B — The 14-Day Leak Test · `post-02-leak-test.png`

Type: Offer. Runs the full eight weeks.

14 days. One leak. Fixed free.

We find the single biggest gap between a lead arriving and someone answering it, and we close that one — on your existing numbers and channels, with the success metric agreed in writing before we start.

No migration. No new system to learn first.

Button — Learn more → `/leak-test`

This is the warm offer, placed where the warmest traffic already is. It is the one surface where the bigger ask is the right ask, because the reader arrived by searching your name rather than by being interrupted.

Cadence

Two posts a week, every week. Profile posts decay after roughly seven days and a stale profile reads as a dead business — which is the opposite of what this campaign is selling. Alternate the two, or write short variations.

What to watch

Profile insights show searches, views, clicks and calls. There is nothing to optimise here in the paid sense. The only way this fails is by going quiet.

If you want paid search as well

That is Google Ads, not the Business Profile, and it is a separate budget line from the social plan. It is a genuinely strong fit — somebody searching "CRM for clinics Dubai" is further down the funnel than anyone in a social feed — but folding it into this budget would starve the Meta line the whole plan depends on.

Plan it for month three, once paid social has told you which message to bid on. Your profile will already be feeding location assets into it by then.

Before this ad can run at all

Five things are missing site-side and no ad on any platform works without the first two:

1. Conversion tracking. This platform's pixel, plus GA4. Without it the campaign optimises on clicks, which is the metric least connected to money.
2. The landing page. `/leak-test` — one field (website URL + email), wired to the CRM. The ads all point here.
3. Ad account + domain verification. Meta's domain verification is the longest-lead item of the whole launch; start it first.
4. Currency decided. The site prices in USD, the internal docs in EUR, the strategy in AED. Pick AED for this market and make ads, page and checkout agree.
5. Fulfilment staffed. The offer is a free report inside 24 working hours. This campaign sells speed of response to people you have just taught to measure speed of response. If nobody is assigned to produce the reports, run a smaller budget rather than a slower promise.

Two rules that apply everywhere

Never edit a running ad that is performing. Editing resets the learning phase and throws away everything the algorithm knows. Launch the new version alongside it and let the old one die. Pausing is free; editing is not.

Never sum conversions across platforms. Meta's 7-day window and LinkedIn's 30-day window measure different things and both will claim the same lead. Report side by side and reconcile against the CRM monthly. When they disagree, the CRM wins.

Kyntlo creative batch 2026-10. Performance bands are expected ranges for UAE targeting, not commitments — recalibrate against your own first thirty days.
